

ASSOCIATION FRANÇAISE DES JEUNES HISTORIENS DU DROIT

CALL FOR PAPERS

DOCTORAL WORKSHOP

JOURNÉES INTERNATIONALES D'HISTOIRE DU DROIT

At the invitation of the Société d'histoire du droit in conjunction with the Chair for Legal History of the University of Rennes Faculty of Law, the Association française des jeunes historiens du droit will hold a round table during the upcoming Journées Internationales d'Histoire du Droit, which will take place in the Faculty of Law of Rennes on 28-31 May 2015.

The session will be limited to PhD-candidates and moderated by a Professor. The aim of this round table is for each participant to submit a few minutes of his or her thesis topic, in addition to, a discussion on substantive issues and methodological approaches raised by each line of research.

The presentation should not exceed 10 minutes in order to spend time discussing with the participants. The objective of which is not to give a conference on the thesis subject, but rather a reflective workshop and an exchange of ideas and knowledge between the various participants on their work in progress. The aim of this session is also to establish contact between PhD-candidates with various academic fields, and obtain feedback on projects and early stages.

Proposals for the presentation may cover all time periods and fields of Legal History, regardless of the selected theme for the Journées Internationales d'Histoire du Droit. Presentations may be given in French, English, German or Italian. Intending presenters are encouraged to send an application consisting of no more than 300 words, and a curriculum vitae before 30 March 2015 to : assofjhd@gmail.com.
